Gandhi's Body Is Cremated Amid Mob Scenes of Hysterical Grief

By G. MILTON KELLY

NEW DELHI, Sunday, Feb. 1 (AP)—

Indian military authorities announced early today that the cremation of Mohandas K. Gandhi's body was complete.

The flickering light of the assassinated Hindu leader's funeral pyre was allowed to die out during the night. Previously it had been expected to burn for 36 hours.

Gandhi's son, Devdas, will return later today to the burning site to decide whether the ashes will be preserved or cast into the holy Jumna river, the Ganges river.

Yesterday, amid mob scenes of hysterical grief, Devdas's Gandhi placed the coals to the four corners of his father's pyre. Police and soldiers swung sticks and rifle butts to break back tens of thousands of devoted followers who showed fervor trying to see the ceremony. There were numerous casualties but no deaths.

The Indian army was alerted throughout the country as light-blue government uniforms remained in a high state of confusion. They did not know whether Gandhi had been cut down by an assassin's bullet, because of hatred for the teacher's non-violence beliefs or for more sinister reasons.

There were widespread beliefs that the assassination yesterday was part of a deep-laid plan of extreme left-wingers to overthrow the old guard of the congress party now in power.

Reorganized there would be no other reason than complaints of the assassin's motive as to the assassination.

Rioting, most of it among Hindus themselves, continued in Bombay province where five more were reported killed today, but the disorders were waiting. Anti-Gandhi mobs were attacked, particularly the supporters of the Hindu Mahasabha, a militant party which has not subscribed to Gandhi's non-violence teachings.

The curfew was imposed in Poona where police opened fire and injured one when crowds attacked anti-Gandhi.

The 25-year-old Hindu from Poona who was seized yesterday after pistol shots ended Gandhi's life, was arrested under the name of Marayan Vinyad Gode. He was held without bail for investigation of the murder.

Among the crowd which formed a circle half a mile wide about the pyre were those who had stood in night-long vigil about Gandhi's quarters and jammed their way through the crowd along the five-mile funeral route.

Dark was falling when the cortege reached the burning site on the banks of the sacred Jumna river. Reverently, many hands lifted the flower-strewn, and bamboo litter from the dead body.

Close friends and Gandhians stood as people fought to get closer. Close friends and Gandhians stood as people fought to get closer. Close friends and Gandhians stood as people fought to get closer.

True to Hindu tradition, Devdas then walked about the pyre three times to symbolize the final cutting of ties between father and son. With a sword, he cut the cord which he then applied the cord.

More grief was poured from earthenware and brass vessels, and the air was filled with the sound of bells. More grief was poured from earthenware and brass vessels, and the air was filled with the sound of bells.

Within an hour the pyre was a glowing bed of coals.

Income From Slot Devices Averages $2,161 a Day Here

During one complete month of slot machine operation under the 50-50 system of taxing the devices, income averaged $2,161.39 per day, according to report compiled Saturday by City Clerk Constance J. Leiser.

After deducting $250 for cost of machine for payment of state and county license fees, the city of Twin Falls is netting $505.33 per day as its share of the income. The amount of profit for operators, state and county from the 198 licensed machines in the city during the month was $67,008.89. State and county license fees have been paid completely by only 13 operators of the devices while 34 operators still are paying state and county license fees.

When all operators have paid off themselves to municipal or military income from the 50-50 slot system will be increased. To date, city collectors have been collecting from machines, but they have been turning the city 80 per cent of the gross February back on operation. The city has been paid for $250 deposited to cover state and county licenses.

At the average daily income from slot machines in Twin Falls were to be continued for the entire year, the total income from the machines now in operation would be $791,683.17, of which the city would receive $158,336.63, and the state and county license fee payment.

Money in Circulation Takes 'Record Drop'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The amount of money in the hands of the public has dropped by more than a billion dollars since Christmas, officials said today. They called it the biggest drop of the kind ever to occur in so short a period.

The drop, they said, may indicate that rising costs of living are forcing people to take money from "hidden" sources—bureau drawers, mattresses, socks, etc.—for current spending needs.

But the drop also might reflect only an unusual large decline of the "seasonal" nature of the money in circulation. It will be evidence that the pinch of higher living costs is the dominant cause of the drop, the officials said.

Official reports show there was a $125,000,000 fall during the week ended last Wednesday in the amount of "money in circulation." That left the total amount in the hands of the public $208,000,000.

Significantly, that is $179,000,000 less than the amount outstanding at the same time last year. The significance arises from the fact that there has been a big rise in the amount of money in circulation since prices—almost all factors which normally increase "circulating" money.

Nature Rushed

The buds bloom early in the spring before the leaves, she explained, and with the "spring" process, blossom even sooner.

Record 'Budget' Sought by Russia
MOSCOW, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Finance Minister G. G. Yezhov proposed tonight to a joint session of the Soviet parliament the largest budget in the history of the Soviet Union.

With Prime Minister Stalin and Finance Minister Molotov as his listeners, Yezhov called for expenditures of 397,000,000 rubles and a revenue of 428,000,000 rubles in 1948.

The amounts would come roughly to $745,000,000 in expenditures and $935,000,000 in revenue.

Demos to Try Push for Own Pay Tax Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—House Democrats proposed a $200 additional personal exemption today for every income tax payer.

The proposal, which indicated that the bill was too low for serious competition with the $500,000,000 bill, was introduced by Rep. J. H. Sharp, Twin Falls county chairman, said Saturday night.

Mr. Sharp declared that the bill was "pleaser" with the amount of contributions made in Twin Falls county but urged all persons who have not contributed to the drive to forward their donations as soon as possible.

Benefits still on the schedule are campaigns by the IOOP and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, a basketball game between high school teams from Hollister and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, a basketball game between high school teams from Hollister and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Eastern Cold Cutting More Into Production

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—A new severe cold spell over a wide strip of the eastern half of the country is furthering into industrial production today and threatened Pittsburgh with a cold crisis.

The number of workers made idle by industrial gas curtailments or shutdowns attributed to the severe weather rose to nearly 270,000 across the nation when 10,000 more families were without sufficient fuel.

Monongahela river has frozen in the vented barge deliveries of the mined coal.

The cold air mass from the Hudson bay region brought temperatures of more than 25 degrees below zero to northern New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

Low readings included Canton, N. Y.—28; Albany, N. Y.—28; Philadelphia, Penn.—24; Hampton Station, Pa.—21; Pell City, Mich.—23; Elkins, W. Va.—6, and Cleveland, Ohio—3.

Year's Low in N. Y.
New York City recorded zero, the lowest of the year, and hundreds of families were without sufficient fuel.

There was a ray of hope, however, for most of the nation that has been hit by the cold wave. Bureaus of weather service said that after tomorrow the cold wave will be over.

Meanwhile, temperatures were below normal in virtually all sections of the country except southern Florida.

Coldest January?
Official figures for cities and states are not ready, but weather bureau experts here said there seems to be no doubt that in many localities, scattered over the eastern two-thirds of the country, January was the coldest since 1940.

And 1940 had one of the worst Januarys in the history of the American weather records.

Travel School Plan Outlined for Chamber
A movement to establish "travel schools" throughout the United States was outlined Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at the Park hotel by Tom Cummings, chairman of the Idaho state board of public relations.

The plan, formulated by the National Travel association, seeks to provide the individual consumer with instruction in the technique of handling a tourist trade, Cummings said.

In his talk before 34 members of the chamber, Cummings pointed out that $18,000,000 was spent during 1947 for travel in the United States, and that the sum among the states varied widely, he said, listing Oregon with $10,000,000 receipts and Idaho with $16,000,000.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The stubborn process of international trade has all but the most favored and optimistic economists as a "year-end check" that two-way trade through the iron curtain in 1947 amounted to approximately one-and-a-half billion dollars, or almost one-third of what it was in the current year because of new commercial treaties which have been negotiated with England and other western European units and by private trade with the United States.

This volume has been set despite a "policy" sharpening of ideological differences in tariff, trade, and currency blockades. The fact that the exchange of goods rests on a barrier less than that of commodities rather than cash limits the total volume, prevents it from almost reaching the high volume of the 30's.

The phenomenon bears out the contention of such experienced minds and business men as former Undersecretary of State William C. Clegg and Lord Cripps in England that man's need for goods will survive and surmount all political barriers. It seems to suggest that the world's capitalism can live side by side if they have a mind to settle or compromise political differences.

BUSINESS—This post-war traffic has been permitted by more than 70 trade treaties which Russia and other nations have entered into with almost all the countries of the world. It is the result of the Anglo-American and French success in Europe. While the diplomatsicker and holler at United Nations meetings for western nations, the world's business men, and their orphans nations in England, France, and the United States are doing a fine job of business.

In general, Moscow and their orphans nations in England, France, and the United States are doing a fine job of business. In general, Moscow and their orphans nations in England, France, and the United States are doing a fine job of business.

The Marshall plan, according to non-political economists should accelerate this commercial flow through the iron curtain. It is obvious that the Marshall plan restores shattered industrial plants than it is to bring back forest land, forests and mines into production. Therefore, the Marshall plan, stimulates industrial output in the west should attract more goods from the east.

"FLASH"—Washington officialdom's reaction to Dwight D. Eisenhower's withdrawal from the presidential race was magical and amusing.

The Eisenhower administration has been equipped with a news ticker service which, minute by minute through the day, records domestic and world events as they happen. The service is operated by a team of typists in the evening and morning press. It enables his government officials to keep abreast of current developments for whatever reason they may have in official policy or political statements.

Whenever news of particular importance is carried on the ticker, the news and the particular story is headlined with a warning of "flash." The Eisenhower letter was belied and flashed.

SAFE—The ticker machine, which are generally located in an office near that of the chief department or their attention is given to the ticker. The "flash" statement was handed out. The propaganda immediately read to the instrument as if they were men engaged in a game of hide-and-seek in the White House. They lay off the first brief news announcement which simply quoted the sentence that "I am not president of the United States, and I am not going to be president of the United States."

When an inquiring reporter happened to drop into a certain department as the publicity man was phoning the news, he was told that the ticker was not working.

"Why, he is the only Republican we're afraid of. It's a trick for Truman now. My job is safe for another four years."

PROSPECTS—After a week's debate and consideration of the Eisenhower withdrawal, the political figure that he has affected the prospects of every presidential hopeful except Henry A. Wallace.

He has surprised the world by his withdrawal from the race of re-election, in all observers' opinion. His letter on the withdrawal of placing a military man in the White House may have won the sympathy of the public and adopted the Democrats' favorite plan of running Secretary Marshall for vice-president.

He improved the status of such compromise candidates as Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

At this juncture at this moment are certainly no more than a guess, many veteran politicians look for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, each with about 50 votes, to kill each other off. In such a stalemate, the natural choice at the end of the third or fourth ballot might have been General Eisenhower.

With his retirement, the likeliest prospect for was Vandenberg. Then, depending on whether the Republicans think it politically advisable to vote for or the west, the likeliest choices for second place appear to be Speaker Martin or Governor Warren.

LET'S GET U. S. 30 FIXED UP!

Civic leaders of Buhl are soliciting support from other south side towns in an effort to get the state to develop and improve U. S. highway 30 through south central Idaho.

This section of U. S. 30, particularly the stretch between Buhl and Bliss, is in bad condition as the result of continued neglect, and it's high time that all the towns dependent upon this main thoroughfare get together and demand some action by the state highway department.

For a good many years the state has had all these south side communities at a disadvantage, and well aware of that fact, it has given these towns the run around.

Because we have been promised a cut-off highway between Buhl and Glenns Ferry, there is always the "very logical" argument that no further attempts should be made to rebuild U. S. 30 along its present location. The gist of that argument is that the area through Hagerman valley is "too boggy" for permanent construction and the Bliss grade too steep for year around traffic.

All this makes for a stalemate. When any protest is raised as to the condition of U. S. 30 over its present route, someone in Boise always comes forth with another promise for the Buhl-Glenns Ferry cut-off—a promise which has been made at least a half dozen times.

But way it looks now, there is no assurance that the new cut-off will be put through in the near future. That being the case, there is no reason why the only main east and west highway south of Snake river canyon should be neglected any longer. This old buckpassing game has gone on long enough.

Let's get that highway between Buhl and Bliss developed and improved to meet modern standards. And furthermore, let's get the cut-off too! After all, both roads are necessary to meet our growing demands, and we're chumps to permit the state highway department authorities to talk us out of either one.

ON REPUDIATING COMMUNISTS

Askey at the P. C. in Chicago "If he would repudiate communist support," President Roosevelt had, Henry A. Wallace replied: "I have to look up the record and find out what PDR really is. What PDR really did to declare: 'I have never sought and I do not welcome the support of any person or group committed to communism, or fascism, or any other doctrine which would destroy the American system of free competitive enterprise and private property.'"

This declaration was made in a nationwide broadcast from the White House on the evening of Oct. 8, 1944.

No one raised the question of Mr. Roosevelt's repudiating communist support in his previous campaign. The year ago, when the communists themselves took the initiative and savagely denounced the imperialist policies and acts of President Roosevelt.

Mr. Wallace himself ran with Mr. Roosevelt that year. And in that same year the communist leader, Earl Browder, urged the masses of the United States cry out of a new party.

NEW YORK SHAKEDOWN

Luckless automobile owners in New York City, who were hailed into court by the thousands after the December snowstorm and summarily fined on charges of illegal parking, may have wondered whether they were still in these United States, land of the free, or in some benighted country where citizens have no rights and are treated as slaves.

Victims of the shakedown were motorists whose cars were buried under the record snowfall. In addition to the fines, many of them had unexpected motor repair bills to boot.

According to reports from the big city, the municipal authorities, faced with the prospect of extraordinary expenditures to dig the cars out of the snow, cracked down without mercy; pleas of extenuating circumstances were stily waived aside, and balliffs stood by to see that the money was paid.

The episode is reminiscent of the methods used by a small Texas town some years ago to raise money to effect falling taxes, by levying a toll on passing travelers. The city fathers employed a couple of traffic officers with orders to strictly enforce the 30-minute speed limit and the 100-foot parking rule. Before the practice was stopped, it was said that more than $100,000 was raised, and the town's financial straits were relieved.—Houston Post.

Pot Shots

Dear Reader:

See you in the safety Council in Twin Falls has asked an expert to look into the traffic problem and to make recommendations expected to lead to a solution of some traffic problems.

They don't have to go to all that trouble. For just a small portion of the probable cost charged by the so-called experts, I will concede to give the reason for any and all traffic and road problems. Furthermore, I'll submit a sure-fire cure for same. In fact, I'll do it for nothing.

Cause: Too many autos. Cure: Sell licenses for only half the cost in the future.

OBVIOUS ANSWER

Dear Reader:

See you in the safety Council in Twin Falls has asked an expert to look into the traffic problem and to make recommendations expected to lead to a solution of some traffic problems.

They don't have to go to all that trouble. For just a small portion of the probable cost charged by the so-called experts, I will concede to give the reason for any and all traffic and road problems. Furthermore, I'll submit a sure-fire cure for same. In fact, I'll do it for nothing.

She Wants to Know Why Dogs Were Killed for Only One Bite

Editor, Times-News:

Being a lover of animals, as well as a fair and honest citizen, I am sure you will find this "fair" city, myself included, will to know why Bill Dye killed the four dogs last week because they happened to bite people.

We have always understood that this was a fair and honest city and that it was a dog's right to one bite! If he should bite once, the owners were to be notified and ordered to keep the dog tied up, fenced in or to place a muzzle on him. Why weren't these dogs given this chance? We want to know, Bill Dye.

It is only fair that a dog be given one chance. After all, Bill did not know one else would think it a very safe or just city law if they were to punish someone else in the nose for teasing them or mistreating them or running a stop sign—if our police force put them up for murder! Or would you? Well, Bill Dye didn't even give these dogs a trial and they didn't murder anyone either. In the first place, I know a dog's nature pretty well, having raised several of them, and if a person doesn't tease or try to hurt or scare a dog, the dog won't attempt to bite the person, unless he has been teased or mistreated previously by this person they try to bite to someone else.

In the second place, the article in the paper stated there was definitely no signs of rabies, but the dogs were killed anyway. Seems to me that even if there had been signs of rabies, a dog is NOT to be killed but to be put under observation for 10 days.

Since the dogs were not mad dogs, why kill them? I say if it is the kind of a dog catcher we have—one who won't even give an animal a second chance—that we do not need him. Down with Bill Dye and anyone else who would harm a dog for his "cruelty to dumb animals" tactics!

Letter on Wheat Plans Corrected By This Writer

Editor, Times-News:

Instead of the way it appeared, my letter to the Forum of Jan. 18 should have read as follows:

Beards, I'm sure will never overcome the prejudice of a certain class of business interests, those whose business is buying and selling wheat, holding wheat for a higher price, and gambling in margins respecting future wheat prices. It is because of this business class prejudice the plan will not make the highway desired. Both the producers and the consumers of wheat would like the plan to take hold as soon as possible, but because of this prejudice among the class mentioned, the plan will have a hard time getting started.

'Slower Pace' Is Proposed as Aid In Youth Trouble

Editor, Times-News:

So now a group of juveniles wrecks a home. There was a writer once who claimed that Americans were ruled by juveniles. There are always underlying causes to juvenile delinquency—broken homes, no parents, poverty or too much pampering.

I understand Australia and England do not have the same trouble as we do with our juveniles. They go to a little school with their young people, do not give them free rein quite as young as we do.

Kate Smith told a story the other day about a young man who decided not to go to college because he thought it was best for his family if he stayed and helped run the farm. She called him a "pioneer" in modern times. There is a lot of pioneering young people could do them.

Young people, boys and girls, could add a lot of wealth and happiness to our nation just by taking more practical interest in their own homes. Maybe school credits ought to be given youth for hours spent doing useful things in their own homes, such as cooking, sewing, carpentry, gardening, etc., or reading good books.

We, as adults, tend to glorify the youth who goes out to do the unusual.

My dear youth, that boy or girl who makes the best of his environment, whatever it is, is just as much as hero as someone in a success story.

She Avers General MacArthur Would Make Good President

Editor, Times-News:

Why not a military man for President? We have had several military men for President and who can say they were not successful and made good Presidents?

Moreover, this is one time that we need a military man at the head of our nation. With Russian military power striving for world domination, we would be very foolish to vote for a man who had no military training and one who did not know the kind of strategy it will take to defeat this cunning "fox" of the east.

General MacArthur is the one man who understands this enemy. He has seen Stalin's scheme working in Manchuria and Korea. Furthermore, we all know what a marvelous job General MacArthur has been able to accomplish in the west. He is not only a national figure but he is also a great international figure. One that Russia may well fear in the future.

The entire world has heard of his successful return to the Philippines at the head of a victorious army. Moreover, he did not rely on his own strength and wisdom for his great undertaking but rather upon Divine help.

He is a man of courage, zeal and fortitude and will not be turned from his purpose when he knows he is doing the right thing for his country and the world in general.

I'm sure he can be trusted to guide and direct the ship of state in these troublesome times. However, he cannot do this without the support of all the people of these United States.

This is one way we can defeat this third party communistic movement headed by Henry Wallace, General

MacArthur is a great leader, statesman and Christian gentleman who is above petty politics, above Wall Street, Pedergast and Pauley.

I have never been an Eisenhower man. I have always had the feeling that the commander in chief, FDR, and the chief of staff had sold us out to Stalin.

We do know someone blundered and it was not our fine general in the field and our gallant soldiers at the front. Therefore, to my mind, there is no other American citizen who could assume this great responsibility and bring peace to the nation in our day.

3 Calls Answered By Local Firemen

Two calls Friday and one Saturday kept the Twin Falls fire department relatively busy although the call Saturday was not to put out a fire but to prevent one.

A leak in a large gasoline storage tank at the Texaco Oil company, 219 Maxwell avenue, prompted the Saturday call. Firemen dispersed the gasoline with fire hoses and wet down the surrounding area to prevent a fire.

Friday, alcohol in the radiator of an automobile owned by Hayes Brown, 121 Van Buren street, leaked out of the radiator and caused a fire. Paint was burned from the hood and radiator of the machine before firemen could extinguish the blaze at 6:25 p.m. The fire started in front of 448 Harrison street.

A weed fire at 11 a.m. caused no damage although it created considerable smoke. The blaze at 221 Jefferson avenue is believed to have been started by small boys. Assistant Fire Chief Robert Miller said.

School Unity Plans Will Be Ready Friday

State reorganization committee last week, 601 Addition Street, Attorney Everett M. Swerley pointed out he did not have sufficient time to handle the legal details necessary to the election. He pointed to criminal trials which start Tuesday.

He noted he had two previously returned "approved plans" for further clarification. He suggested the county commissioners engage other counsel before proceeding with the election. The Parry associates were engaged.

Included in Plan

Included in the proposed district are Hogerson No. 34; Berger No. 39; House Creek No. 58; Elmwood No. 43; Poplar Hill No. 18; Washington No. 11; Piler Independent No. 4; Mars Independent No. 5 and Halter Independent No. 6, and parts of Union No. 8; Sylvania No. 10; Cedar Creek No. 22 and Superior No. 54.

Along with the prediction on the Piler-Halter matter, Leichter also announced the county reorganization committee's approval of consolidation of several districts with the Twin Falls class A Independent district.

He said the county group approved Friday the amalgamation of Park Lane No. 30; Shamrock No. 32; Mountain View No. 17; Altendale No. 45 and part of Union No. 8 into the enlarged district.

Little Value

It might be feasible for a part of Excelsior No. 23 to be included in this consolidation, Leichter said. The area to be included would be mostly sagebrush country with little or no property valuation.

Public hearings on this consolidation will be conducted in the Twin Falls high school from 8 to 10 p.m. Feb. 17 and from 2 to 4 p.m. Feb. 18 in the office of County Supt. Doris Stradley, Leichter said.

Public hearings were also announced on the suggested consolidation of Castleford with the Buhl district. Hearings will be held in Castleford Feb. 8; Buhl, Feb. 10 and in Twin Falls, Feb. 11, Leichter said. The meetings will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. each day.

Mrs. Dunn to Quit Post She Had 27 Years

Mrs. Marian Dunn, who is retiring after 26 years of service as secretary in the office of the Twin Falls county prosecuting attorney, was the inspiration for a farewell party given by her many friends at the county courthouse on Friday afternoon.

More than 35 courthouse employees gathered after office hours in the jury room where tables were set, and homemade cake and coffee were served. Two farewell gifts were presented to Mrs. Dunn by the group.

The presentation of the gifts was made by County Commissioner Kenneth Green, prosecuting attorney E. M. Ewley spoke briefly, telling of Mrs. Dunn's many faithful years with the county, and the guest of honor responded with extemporaneous expression of appreciation.

Mrs. Dunn came to Idaho from Indiana in 1916 and to Twin Falls in 1917. In 1918 she took her position in the attorney's office during the term of Frank Stephens. With the exception of an absence of two years, she has worked since then for each succeeding attorney and was beginning her eighth year of service for Successor.

Third Party's Chairman Has Leftist Record

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Henry A. Wallace has come up with his third party national chairman, a Minnesota politician with a record of communist front affiliations as long as his arm.

He is Elmer A. Benson of Appleton, one-time governor and senator of his state and a factor in labor politics of the northwest. Wallace named him head of the national Wallace for President committee.

Benson is the man who hopes to commit the Democratic-Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota to Wallace's candidacy and thus compel President Truman to run in that state as a third party candidate. Democrats in Minnesota do not have a party solely their own. They merged with the Farmers' party before the 1934 election.

Wallace's activities committee which listed Benson's communist front affiliations earlier, it was not listed as a communist. Many certainly are not communists. The committee implied they were fronts carefully selected by communists to disguise the real objectives of various undertakings.

Names Drive Chief
Along with Benson as national chairman Wallace announced C. J. Baldwin as his campaign manager. Baldwin was a new dealer with Wallace and presently is vice-chairman of the Progressive Citizens of America which is under charges of failing to resist communist infiltration. He was at one time vice chairman of the National Citizens Political Action committee, which the Un-American activities committee held to be a communist front.

Refused Guy Tugwell, early new deal brain trust, Jo Davidson, sculptor, and Paul Robeson, Negro singer, were named co-chairmen with Benson. Arthur Cronin, editor-in-chief of Little Brown and company, book publisher, was named treasurer.

FAIRFIELD, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Harry Lamson has returned from a 10-day trip to Moscow and eastern Washington. She visited her son, Harry Lamson, who is attending school in Moscow and then went to Walla Walla, Wash., her former home.

Good Folks Fill World, Boyle Finds, Despite Other Publicity

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (UP)—The headlines scream: "Man Shocks With Bizarre Love," "Fishy Husband Trapped in Love Nest With Blonde."

"Hill-billing Bank Cashier Flees With $35,000."

"War Looms in Balkan Prison."

He is Elmer A. Benson of Appleton, one-time governor and senator of his state and a factor in labor politics of the northwest. Wallace named him head of the national Wallace for President committee.

Some of the front affiliations attributed to Benson were with organizations notorious for their efforts to influence public opinion in the United States in the field of foreign relations and toward objectives inimical to the Soviet union. They bitterly opposed American aid to Great Britain until Germany attacked Russia in 1941.

Benson is the man who hopes to commit the Democratic-Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota to Wallace's candidacy and thus compel President Truman to run in that state as a third party candidate. Democrats in Minnesota do not have a party solely their own. They merged with the Farmers' party before the 1934 election.

ness and anonymous deeds of good will that go on in its community every day because—among other reasons—there simply wouldn't be space for them.

But occasionally a story comes along illustrating the age-old goodness of people that is so dramatic it becomes news.

And such is the story of 15-year-old Marilyn Looby of St. Paul, Minn., and the townspeople who helped her to live.

Marilyn suffered from a rare disease called "coarctation of the aorta." This is an ailment which constricts the main arterial trunk line. Seeking to force the blood through, the heart becomes enlarged. Unable to carry on, it surrenders to death.

The girl was told only two doctors in the United States could operate and cure her. One was a surgeon in the children's hospital in Boston. He agreed to perform the delicate operation—which consisted of removing the small constricted section of the artery and sewing the two loose ends together again.

But Marilyn and her widowed mother lacked money. Marilyn went to work as a baby sitter. But the fund grew slowly, and each month of delay made her risk greater.

Then Paul Light, a columnist on the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, learned of her case and published the facts. "I don't know what's to be done about it," he told his readers. "I merely given you the story. I thought it might interest you."

It did. By 9 o'clock next morning more than $2,000 for the operation fund had been contributed. The fund wanted to assume the whole cost. A trust fund was established, and Paul Light wrote later:

"The hardest part of our job was shutting off donations. I could easily have collected $10,000."

Marilyn went to Boston. She needed the courage she brought with her. For one so nearly grown it was a particularly difficult operation. It took five hours.

But she is alive and well today. One of 40 similar patients saved at the children's hospital by the technique employed there.

She owes her life to unknown friends who needed only to hear of her plight to come forward with help.

And they weren't even asking for first call on Marilyn's services as a baby sitter.

C. of C. Flays Bank's Action On Its Rival

REXBURG, Jan. 31 (UP)—The REXBURG Chamber of Commerce today adopted a resolution urging the First Security Bank of Idaho to drop its "continued opposition and use of various methods calculated to prevent the opening" of the Yellowstone bank in REXBURG, Wendell Ritzke, secretary, announced today.

The resolutions are being sent to Gov. C. A. Robins, Attorney General Robert E. Smylie and E. P. Harbo, commissioner of finance, urging they do nothing to impede the establishment of the bank and assist in getting it to operation.

A state charter for the bank was issued by William Sewell, newly appointed commissioner of finance, in the closing days of Gov. Arnold.

Williams' administration but a restraining order preventing the merger of the bank of Teton Valley and Yellowstone Banking company was obtained by the First Security Bank of Idaho. District Judge C. E. Winstead recently ruled in a memorandum opinion there were irregularities in the chartering of the bank and concluded that the action of the First Security Bank of Idaho in seeking an injunction against issuance of the charter be dismissed. A motion requesting an order suspending dissolution of the restraining order pending appeal to the state supreme court was made Jan. 24 and a minute entry was made directing the order be incorporated in the judgment when it is filed.

The REXBURG Chamber of Commerce said in its resolution to the First Security Bank of Idaho there is "overwhelming sentiment in the county for the need of an additional financial institution and that it is felt it is necessary for the progress of the full development of the area."

"We call on the officials of the First Security Bank of Idaho to show their good faith in the establishment of a new financial institution in our community and join the REXBURG Chamber of Commerce in a friendly spirit of cooperation in development of Madison county," the resolution concluded.

Truly, Scouting builds into its membership strength that enrich America.

Gandhi Fast Termed Best "Persuader"

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Fasting was one of Mohandas K. Gandhi's most potent weapons. He undertook at least 11 major fasts, three of which lasted for 21 days. Several were aimed at enforcing peace among India's rival Hindu, Muslim and Sikh populations as well as his last fast, which ended 13 days before his death.

Gandhi's most notable fasts were these:

1. Three days in March, 1916. He fasted a mill strike.
2. Five days in November, 1921, in penance for Hindus who killed in Bombay while the Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor, was a visitor.

3. Twenty-one days starting Sept. 18, 1924, in an attempt to induce Hindus and Muslims to relinquish their animosity.

4. Seven days in September, 1932, as a protest against a separate electorate for the depressed classes. This was his first "unto death" fast.
5. Twenty-one days starting May 8, 1934, as part of his campaign to remove disabilities for the untouchables.

6. Four days in August, 1933, in protest against treatment as an ordinary prisoner rather than a political prisoner.
7. Seven days in August, 1934, in penance for an attack on a Hindu leader.
8. Four days in March, 1939, to force settlement of a dispute over constitutional reform in the state of Kalkat. Another "unto death" fast.

9. Twenty-one days in February, 1943, to "crucify my flesh" unless released unconditionally from wartime internment.
10. Three days in September, 1947, protesting communal bloodshed in Calcutta.
11. Five days in January, 1948, to enforce peace among Muslims, Hindus and Sikhs.

Farm Labor Group Seeks Payments

BURLEY, Jan. 31—Columbia County Farm Labor association announced this week that the payment of 35 cents per acre for membership, voted at the Jan. 3 meeting of the organization, should be paid early so that the association will have funds to purchase necessary equipment for the newly established farm labor camp south of Burley.

J. M. Biggs, secretary, said the association has leased equipment used at the camp. Membership in the labor organization will be accepted only until April 1. This is required because the demand for labor needed will be determined upon the membership average as of April 1, 1948.

Farmers are asked to pay the assessment at the county agent's office in the courthouse. The main object of the association is to provide seasonal labor for farmers in this community.

10 Commandments on Employee Happiness Revealed by Expert

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—It takes more than money to make an employee happy, H. J. Post said today. For 30 years Post has been studying the boss problem of how to keep his workers contented on the job. He recently was appointed executive vice president of the National Association of Personnel Directors.

Out of his experience, Post has formulated 10 rules the boss should keep in mind if he wants to bring out the best in his workers. They are:

1. Be accessible. Don't "smoke into" the plant through a private entrance and hide behind a ring of "yes-men."
2. Be impartial. A boss' pet can cause more friction than a Boy Scout trying to start a fire without matches.
3. Provide "satisfactory" pay—based on production and profits. And give the workers an understandable explanation of why the wage is no higher.
4. Set the pace. Be an example in the kind of productivity and economy you expect.
5. Place employees at their proper skill level. Don't put a skilled worker on sweeping floors.
6. Pass as much authority to subordinates as possible, right down to the lowest worker.

7. Provide a system of advance and give security through fair dealing.
8. Keep up with the times, as workers will have faith and pride in the company's progress.
9. Keep employees happy with a satisfactory job. That's more important than company-sponsored recreation and entertainment.
10. Treat the employee as an individual; not as a card filed number.

An employer who follows these rules will have less labor trouble than a competitor who may pay higher wages," Post said.

Furthermore, Post said, "it's not much help to put up a suggestion box for employee grievances. It's much more important for the workers to know that the boss is easy to approach."

Films Getting Tight, Choose Trained Girls

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31 (AP)—All you pretty girls with Hollywood ambitions might just as well marry that shoe clerk and settle down on Main street. They're not snatching movie roles off soda fountain stools any more.

Film factories are feeling awful poor these days. Time was when they'd splurge anything up to a million bucks to turn a car hop into a glamour queen.

Some of 'em even turned into actresses. A lot of 'em never got past the "cheese-cake" class.

But the studios aren't taking any more chances with their pennies. They're looking for ladies who can act now. Which explains why Signe Hasso is a red hot property around the casting office. Miss Hasso, as peppy a bit of emporium as ever came out of Sweden, has been knocking around town for years.

But she didn't let her. What kind of headlines could she make? Came up from a legitimate dramatic school. No punch to that.

It wasn't until they couldn't afford "underclass stars" any more that somebody "discovered" Hasso. Now she's starting in three big-time epics: "Where There's Life," with Bob Hope; "Double Life" with Ronald Colman; and "To the Ends of the Earth" for Columbia.

Grain Holdings in State Show Drop

BOISE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Idaho grain stocks on Jan. 1, including holdings on farms and in mills and warehouses, were estimated by the bureau of agricultural economics to be about 732,000 tons, compared to 747,000 tons a year ago.

The total wheat stocks include 7,000,000 bushels of farm stocks, 13 per cent less than a year ago and eight per cent less than the 10-year average of 1927-46, and 8,019,000 bushels off the farm, a decrease of five per cent.

Idaho stocks of other grains included 518,000 bushels of corn and 49,000 bushels of oats on Jan. 1 and 6,500,000 bushels of barley and 4,000 of rye on Dec. 1.

Nation's Gold Output Jumps During 1947

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—American gold production increased a third during 1947 largely because of renewed activity at the world's largest copper mine, a Utah operation which produces the precious metal as a by-product, the bureau of mines said today.

Copper production also increased 39 per cent, chiefly because of the absence of labor strike problems that plagued the industry in 1946, the bureau said in its annual report on the two minerals.

Up 35 Per Cent
Recovery of gold in 1947 totaled 2,060,013 fine ounces, 31 per cent more than 1946 production and 119 per cent more than the 1945 figure, lowest of recent years. The price of gold remained stable throughout the year at $35 an ounce.

Copper production, spurred by the highest average price since 1919, totaled 846,329 tons.

Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and Michigan increased copper production during the year 121, 27, 26 and 10 per cent respectively, while Montana production declined for the fifth successive year and Nevada production also dropped—one and two per cent respectively.

Other increases
California and South Dakota, second and third in 1947, had increases of 18 and 17 per cent, respectively. The next ranking producers: Alaska, Colorado and Arizona, increased 23, 17 and 18 per cent respectively.

Gold production by states included Idaho, 55,100 ounces. Copper production in 1947, included Idaho, 1,455 tons.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ PUCKETT

My child! My first, my living child!
I have been dreaming of a thing like this Ever since as a child upon the mountain wild
I nursed my doll upon my knee.
My blood! My voice! My thought! My dream achieved!
Oh, till you come to me I had not lived!

—Wade.

Every parent knows the truth of the above poem. The love of offspring and devotion to same is one of the most beautiful characteristics of human beings. Grandparents are worse than parents when it comes to loving the small nippers in the family. Why, we adore our small and capricious grandsons even when he insists on drinking his bath water, or gnawing a biscuit made for the spaniel.

A poorly gent named Durling is columnist for the Los Angeles Examiner. During says he took his girl friend to dinner and she ordered an Idaho baked potato (price on the ala carte menu 45 cents). The waiter fetched a really little brown object about the size of a tennis ball. Durling's girl friend said, "Take this back and get the baked potato I ordered." "NEVER in the history of Idaho," has this state grown a potato as small as that!

PUCKETT: "At work on a writing job" says a letter from Charles Merrill of Hull, "and I came upon a scribbled note, 'Ab-dull took Puckett to the river.' I immediately thought of Puckett's Last Stand and wonder how deep your Puckett's roots are anchored in Idaho history."

He goes on to say that the notes refer to Attorney Puckett of the firm of Hawley and Puckett and would like to know if this man's initials were G. O. and whether his name was George. We next help writer Merrill on this, but maybe some of our readers can. Anybody know about this attorney named Puckett and just what his first name was?

As for our own branch of the clan—they came to Idaho in 1909 when we were a white-haired brat in grade school. The name goes back to seven Welsh brothers who, out about a yard of the family monicker before landing in America. This left it as the name stands today. Mr. Merrill's letter about the Puckett attorney also contained an interesting bit of news about an old resident of Hagerman.

He writes: "I went to Charles B. Reeves, first male school teacher of Hagerman valley. This gentleman of 81 happily musing over a shoe box full of Christmas letters just received and still arriving. He had mailed 60 prints from a photograph of his 1899 class in the old Basin school in Miramonte, Calif. and located 90 pupils out of a class of 71 in a school 48 years ago!"

If that class ever has a reunion, hope we get invited. Thanks G. O. Merrill, for dope on a fine old Idaho teacher and his pupils.

"Saw your Cockey cat sitting on the cat pen roof making waves at sparrows," writes an old friend and reader of this column, "I was near Piler at the time, looking through a powerful bureau of reclamation transit. It was at least seven miles from me to your ranch yard, but I could practically count Cockey's whiskers! (Now ain't that some!)"

Been visiting with an old crony who was a newspaper copyreader before we were born. This gent has alashed and patted with the best of them. He vows that the word "unemployment" is a copyreader's worst horror. How to get that word in a one-column space has been driving his clan crazy for years. It always comes out "jobless." He says publishers should start a research foundation to concoct a synonym for "unemployment insurance," for instance, before all the copyreaders go crazy.

Got the family toothbrushes mixed. Seems we went off for a week-end visit and took along our handsome son-in-law's orange brush instead of our own! Have heard many complaints about our ministrations, but reckon this is the cruelest. Nope, our in-law didn't get sore, he just laughed. Happens we are very fond of one another. He even made us a batch of delicious fudge on our birthday.

Sometimes though, we amuse him and can't figure why. Yesterday after attending the races at the great Santa Anita track we told him, "It was most fun when they ran long-shot race before the final one!"

Small telescopes in the hands of studious and energetic persons have often brought nation-wide recognition to their operators. Outstanding in this respect is the flock of instruments owned by E. L. Forsyth, 70-year-old retired locomotive engineer of the Santa Fe line. Aside from the care of his orange orchard near Fall Brook, Calif., Forsyth's chief interest is in the starry skies.

Our astronomer is an unusually active member of the American Association of Variable Star Observers, the American Astronomical Society, and the Los Angeles Astronomical Society. Around 1912, his observations on variable stars appeared in Popular Astronomy almost every month.

His reports on meteors are so complete as to put to shame most younger observers. At the time of the great meteor shower of Oct. 9, 1934, he obtained a most official observing party, so arranged that all sections of the sky could be watched. His report was widely published.
